Condition of Soviet Premier Continues Serious

ATTITUDE OF ADMINISTRATION IS ONE OF WATCHFUL WAITING

Third Press Conference Of President Eisenhower Attracts Overflow Crowd of Reporters

Washington (AP)—President Eisenhower expressed willingness today to go half way to Moscow to meet whoever succeeds the dying Joseph Stalin in Russia's seat of power. He attached the same conditions he set out a week ago for a possible meeting with Stalin.

In a news conference statement, the President said he did not know what might come from the impending shifts in Russia and described the United States attitude of the moment as very definite watchfulness.

He said this country's basic aim would be, as it has been, to seek progress toward peace.

As to a meeting with any new Russian leader, he said the conditions would be (A) that it had approval of the American people, and (B) that there was reason to believe it would do some good in the cause of peace.

In his third news conference as President, Eisenhower, also:

1. Said it is up to Congress now to work out the wording of a resolution condemning Russia for enslaving free peoples. He declared there is no rift between him and Senate Republican Leader Taft of Ohio over changes in the resolution the President submitted to Congress.
2. Blasted the current wave of anti-Semitism behind the Iron Curtain as deplorable and heart-breaking—particularly, he said, to a man who has seen, as he has, the results of Nazi efforts to exterminate Jews.
3. Reaffirmed his stand in favor of the states having "full ownership of offshore lands within their historic borders." He said, however, the federal government must retain certain rights in these waters, in such matters as national defense and the prevention of smuggling.
4. Said he expects his first reorganization plan, making the Federal Security Administration a full fledged department headed by a Cabinet member, will be ready for submission to Congress next week.
5. Expressed opposition to ex-

CONTROLS ARE LIFTED FROM MAJOR ITEMS

Washington (AP) — The government today lifted price controls from major household appliances, bread and bakery products, automobiles and laundry services.

Price Chief Joseph H. Freehill estimated that the annual sales volume of items removed from control by the action is 25 billion dollars.

It was the fifth major step in lifting controls since President Eisenhower, in his State of the Union message, called for an end to price curbs by April 30.

These are the major items from which the controls were removed today:

All bakery products, including bread, rolls, pies and so forth, estimated to have an annual sales volume of 3½ billion dollars.

All major household appliances, including home refrigerators, dishwashers, ranges, clothes washers, driers and ironers, home and farm freezers.

All custom-molded and fabricated plastic products.

All new passenger automobiles and postwar used cars, parts and accessories, as well as all commercial vehicles, including trucks, buses, trailers and parts. The automotive items decontrolled have an estimated retail sales volume of 12 billion dollars.

In addition controls were removed from glycerine, cocoa and cocoa products, copper chemicals, and X-ray and electrical therapeutic apparatus.

All laundry, dry cleaning, and linen and diaper supply services, with an annual sales volume of (Turn to Page Sixteen)

Strangulation Death Of Ebensburg Coed Is Still a Mystery

Ebensburg (AP)—The strangulation death of June Christoff, 21-year-old Pennsylvania State College coed, remained a mystery today despite a three-hour lie detector test of her brother, Jean.

The 24-year-old former Carnegie Tech student was given the test yesterday by state police detective William L. Nevin, who reported the findings "inconclusive and incomplete."

Dist. Atty. Fred J. Fees of Cambria county said:

"The detector showed disturbances because of Jean's poor physical and mental condition. But practically everything he had told us earlier was borne out."

Christoff pleaded guilty yesterday to two burglary charges and was jailed without bail. Fees said he has admitted several other thefts.

Young Christoff, who was missing for 10 days, has denied knowing anything about his sister's death. She was found strangled with a dress belt in her home at nearby Ebensburg Feb. 17.

$500,000 Damage Suit Filed by Congressman

New York (AP)—A Pennsylvania congressman has filed a half million dollar damage suit against the co-authors of the book, "U. S. A. Confidential."

The suit was filed Tuesday by Rep. Augustine B. Kelley (D-Pa.), naming as defendants Jack Lait, editor of the New York Daily Mirror, and Lee Mortimer, Mirror columnist. Crown Publishers, Inc., publishers of the book, also were named.

Kelley's complaint charged one paragraph in the book "intended to convey that the plaintiff was guilty of being a front for persons of ill repute."

ALLIES SMASH CLOSE TO THE SIBERIAN LINE

Seoul (AP)—Allied warplanes unleashed an orgy of fiery destruction over North Korea today. It included a record 1,000-mile round trip fighter-bomber smash within 50 miles of Russia's Siberian border.

The U. S. Fifth Air Force said 15 F84 Thunderjets, flying from bases in South Korea, plastered industrial targets near Chongjin, 140 miles from Vladivostok, in the longest fighter-bomber strike of the war.

Other fighter-bombers pounded Communist positions along the quiet, 155-mile battlefield.

Thunderjets followed up the Chongjin strike with an attack on a munitions plant near Sunchon, north of Pyongyang, North Korean capital.

Sabre jets tangled five times with Communist MIG 15s, but pilots made no claims of damaging any Red craft.

Navy planes from the carrier Valley Forge blasted Changjin No. 1 hydroelectric plant complex, 40 miles northwest of Hamhung on the Korean east coast. Carrier planes blast the area periodically.

Farther north, planes from the carrier Oriskany dropped 25 tons of bombs on zinc and lead mines northwest of Songjin, also on the east coast, only 45 miles from the Manchurian border.

At the same time, the battleship Missouri renewed the bombardment of the long-besieged port of Wonsan on the east coast.

IKE CARICATURED BY BELGRADE CARTOONIST

Belgrade, Yugoslavia (AP)—The Yugoslav newspaper Politika today carried a three-column cartoon picturing the ghostly spirit of Stalin rising from the Kremlin. In the foreground, a caricatured President Eisenhower, beating a fast retreat, was crying over his shoulder:

"I am taking my offer back. I don't want to meet you halfway."

Warren Boy in Korea Suffers Flesh Wound

Mrs. Mary E. Burnett, 327 Pennsylvania avenue, west, has been advised by the War Department that her son, Pvt. Richard J. Burnett, was wounded in action in Korea on February 16.

The news was received in a telegram from Maj. General William E. Bergin, adjutant general's office, and expressed regret that young Burnett had suffered a flesh wound of his face, caused by grenade fire.

Arriving simultaneously, a letter from the young infantryman said it was expected he would be removed to Japan for further hospitalization. He gave little additional detail, other than the fact a Communist-thrown grenade exploded just in front of him, wounding his face and eyes with debris.

Pvt. Burnett, serving with a Tank Corps unit, is doing his second stretch in the Army, having previously served more than two years, with some duty in Japan, and reemlisting about four months ago.

Arrest of Check Artist in Kane Recalls An Attempted Jail Break Here in 1949

A rubber check artist operating in Warren in March, 1949, and in Kane made a sad mistake, it was revealed by Kane police yesterday. Robert L. Irwin, 26, who attempted to pass a $50 check in the Rose Radio and Electric Store, owned by Kane Chief of Police Bernard Rose, did so when the Chief was in the store. He attempted to purchase a small radio with the check, and under questioning by Chief Rose, made statements that conflicted.

The man was Robert L. Irwin, 26, who gave Kane police his address as Warren county, and told officers that his father had given him the check to cash. He said he did not know it was not good.

The father, Robert C. Irwin, 57, was also picked up by Kane police, and admitted writing the check. He also admitted passing a $20 check at a Kane service station.

The younger Irwin was arrested

MOST LIKELY SUCCESSOR—Georgi Malenkov, left, shown with Joseph Stalin as they reviewed a May Day parade in Moscow, is considered to be the most likely candidate to succeed Stalin as premier. He is at present Central Soviet Committee secretary.

Van Fleet Says We Must Win in Korea

Washington (AP) — Gen. James A. Van Fleet declared today the United States must win a military victory in Korea to maintain the "prestige, honor and influence" of this nation in world affairs.

Van Fleet, the former military commander in Korea who is retiring at the end of the month, also told the Senate Armed Services Committee there "has been a serious shortage of ammunition ever since I've been in Korea—there have been critical shortages at times."

The general came to Washington Tuesday and conferred with President Eisenhower at the White House. He testified before two House committees yesterday and moved over to the other side of the Capitol today to answer questions from Senators who want to know his views on how to end the Korean War.

New Bills Provide Safeguards Against Baby Black Markets

Philadelphia (AP) — Proposed legislation providing safeguards against black markets in babies and protection for would-be foster parents in such cases is in Gov. John S. Fine's hands today.

The proposals — drafts of two new bills and an amendment to the County Institution District Law of 1937 — were handed to Gov. Fine by Geoffrey Smith, president of the Girard Trust Co. Exchange Bank, and the Very Rev. Eugene Gallery, president of the University of Scranton.

The banker is chairman and the educator vice chairman of the governor's Committee on Children and Youth, appointed by Fine in 1951.

The committee asked Fine to in-

SNOW FLURRIES WILL CONTINUE IN THE AREA

Pittsburgh (AP)—Snow squalls hit large areas of Western Pennsylvania today making traffic conditions hazardous. Hundreds were late for work in Pittsburgh.

Committee Surveying Safety On Penna. Turnpike Will Open Hearing at Lancaster Friday

Lancaster (AP)—A legislative committee surveying Pennsylvania Turnpike safety hears from western Pennsylvanians tomorrow after learning that many eastern travelers disagree on accident causes and cures.

The 10-man group, named to conduct public hearings in an effort to work out possible corrective legislation, sits in Somerset tomorrow for the second of three scheduled hearings. The third is set for Harrisburg next Wednesday.

Seventeen witnesses, including district attorneys, auto club and truck federation officials, county coroners and just plain turnpike users were heard yesterday.

Many of the volunteer witnesses told the five senators and five representatives that driver fatigue and speeding were the chief reasons for the mounting accident toll on the cross state superhighway. However, there was disagreement over the speed factor.

ALLEGHENY G.O.P. TO HOLD MORE MEETINGS

Pittsburgh (AP)—The Republican organization scheduled more party conferences today in an effort to select a harmony candidate for the GOP mayoralty nomination.

The conferences came after Leonard P. Kane, real estate operator and former assemblyman, said he will be a candidate if the GOP state administration adopts a hands off policy. Kane declared: "I told them that I am willing to become a candidate as long as the state administration does not enter into the primary with a candidate of its own."

Not Guilty Verdict Returned by Jury In Dr. Weinberg Trial

Washington (AP)—Dr. Joseph W. Weinberg was acquitted today of a charge of perjury. He was accused of lying when he denied to a congressional committee that he had been a member of the Communist party.

U. S. District Judge Alexander Holtzoff told the jury he did not agree with the verdict. The jury deliberated for more than seven hours. It received the case yesterday and was in session until after midnight without reaching an agreement. Then it brought in a verdict within about 15 minutes after reporting back for duty at 10 a. m.

Weinberg, the "Scientist X" of a congressional investigation of atomic spying, stood tensely as the jury filed in.

The pale, thin bespectacled scientist smiled happily. His wife, Merle, who was among the spectators, broke into a big, happy smile.

Weinberg then was discharged from the bond under which he has remained at liberty since his indictment on three charges of lying before the House un-American Activities Committee May 25, 1949.

LATEST BULLETIN ON STALIN SAYS BREATHING AND HEART ACTION GRAVELY IMPAIRED

BULLETIN

Moscow (AP)—The condition of Prime Minister Stalin was reported deteriorating tonight. This news was announced just before 8:30 p. m. (12:30 p. m., EST).

By The Associated Press

Moscow—Second bulletin reports Stalin still alive, but getting worse: Leeches used to draw off blood and lower blood pressure.

London—British medical experts say bulletin shows Stalin has practically no chance of recovery; many speculate he is already dead.

Paris—Handling of news on Stalin illness suggests there is division and uncertainty in Kremlin; struggle for power may already be on.

Washington—State Department officials discount prospect of radical change in Soviet foreign policy.

Moscow (AP)—Joseph Stalin's heart is faltering, the latest bulletin from his physicians discloses, and the announcement of his death may be only a matter of hours away.

A medical bulletin tonight for the first time mentions a failure of the Prime Minister's heart. Previous reports had centered around a brain hemorrhage stroke and disturbances in breathing and blood circulation.

Tonight's bulletin—the third from the 10 doctors since a stroke felled Stalin in the Kremlin Sunday night—acknowledged that his condition had deteriorated today. It called his status "exceedingly grave."

It was perhaps noteworthy that this third bulletin was issued only 12 hours after bulletin No. 2. A full 24 hours passed between the first and second bulletin.

Moscow (AP)—The latest word given the Russian people is that Prime Minister Stalin's condition continues low and that his breathing has become more labored.

This bulletin, the second from his 10 doctors, is now more than 10 hours old, but it represents the latest information available. It described Stalin as remaining in a deep coma, and thus unaware of the varied medical efforts in his behalf, ranging from use of oxygen and penicillin to the use of blood-sucking leeches.

The bulletin issued at 2 a. m. (6 p. m. EST, Wednesday) disclosed the brain hemorrhage that struck down the 75-year-old leader of world communism Sunday night affected the trunk section of the brain, in addition to the left sector where the bleeding occurred.

His heart action, blood circulation and breathing continued "gravely impaired," it added.

INDIANA MURDER TRIAL IS SET FOR MARCH 16

Indiana, Pa. (AP)—George Stitler, accused of fatally shooting a 55-year-old farmer in an argument over the dead man's wife, will go on trial March 16.

Killed was Cletus Peterman, 55, in a fight with Stitler, 33, over Stitler's attentions to the older man's 33-year-old wife, Dorothy.

Stitler and Mrs. Peterman testified at a hearing that Peterman pursued Stitler and fired two shots before the younger man returned the fire. Peterman was felled by a bullet through the heart.

Thirteen From State To Witness Atomic Blast on March 17

West Chester (AP) — Thirteen Pennsylvanians, including Gov. John S. Fine will be in Nevada March 17 to witness an atomic explosion.

A major purpose of the blast will be to test the results of atomic explosion on ordinary dwellings and various types of air raid shelters.

The invitation to Fine and state and city civil defense officials was announced here by J. George Brueckmann, director of Region 2 of the Federal Civil Defense Administration.

Some 36 governors, defense directors and mayors of what Brueckmann termed critical target areas in Region 2 will be witnesses of the test.

In preparation for the test, two dwellings made of wood have been built on the Las Vegas testing grounds. Both houses will be furnished as completely as possible except for plumbing, electricity and utilities. Twelve home-type bomb shelters, four of them located in the basements of the two frame houses, also will be tested along with several passenger cars.

The Pennsylvania delegation will include besides Fine, Lt. Gen. F. A. Wezer, adjutant general; Dr. Richard Gerstell, state director of civil defense; H. G. Andrews, vice chairman, Pennsylvania Council of Civil Defense; Col. John H. Brubaker, director of civil defense in Northampton County, and Mayor David Lawrence of Pittsburgh.

Woman Known Here Helps in Capture Of Man in Holdup Near Washington

The capture near Washington last Friday of an Ohio bandit with a long criminal record is credited to Mrs. John B. Wise of 907 Gist avenue, Silver Spring, Md., a Washington suburb, who is well known in Warren. Mrs. Wise is the niece of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur E. Johnson, 510 East street, and Freeman Johnson of Bakersfield, Cal., a former Warren policeman. She is the daughter of Lily C. Johnson Weston, formerly of Warren but now of Washington.

After holding up a finance company in Silver Spring at 12:50 p. m. Friday, which netted him $4,198, Earl Dee Parker, 22, of Canton, Ohio, strolled nonchalantly from the company's offices, jumped into a stolen car at the curb and proceeded through Silver Spring streets to the Wise home where he drove the car into the family garage and closed the doors. Mrs. Wise, who happened to witness this unusual visit to her home, called police and the young hoodlum was arrested.

While being interviewed a short time later at Rockville station of the Maryland State Police, Parker jumped from his chair and wrested a revolver from the holster of an officer, Pvt. Leonard Collins. Parker was holding the gun in his left hand when Collins whirled to grapple with him. The policeman was joined in the scuffle by Pvt. Robert Snyder and Sgt. Robert L. Dutrow, who finally forced Parker to drop the gun by twisting his left arm. "The only thing that saved the day was the fact that Collins got his finger inside the trigger guard of the gun," Dutrow said.

An excellent picture of Mrs. Wise and her daughter, Christine, was carried by the Washington Star. Mrs. Wise visits in Warren each summer.

Partisan Clash Over Foreign Policy Ple Delayed by Illness

Washington (AP)—Russian Premier Joseph Stalin's serious illness appeared likely today to delay, not prevent, a bitter partisan clash over President Eisenhower's first foreign policy request to Congress.

This ironic situation developed as Senate Democrats stood firm against Republican changes in the President's resolution condemning Russia for "perverting" wartime agreements so as to enslave free peoples.

Sen. H. Alexander Smith (D-N.J.), who drafted the controversial amendment, conceded the resolution "may not come up" in the Senate in its present form as long as the Senate remains split sharply on party lines.

"Stalin's illness would give us good reason for postponement until we see whether something can be worked out," Smith told reporters.

Democrats are lined up almost solidly behind the Republican President in support of the original resolution he sent to Congress.

Despite Secretary of State Dulles' caution against changes which might imperil prospects for passing the resolution with near unanimity, Republicans on the Senate Foreign Relations Committee wrote in a declaration that its adoption would "not constitute any determination... as to the validity or invalidity" of big power agreements made secretly at Yalta and elsewhere.

Boro Millage Rate To Be Established Today or Tomorrow

Borough Manager C. W. Barw said today that the millage rate for Warren borough will be established today or Friday in time to allow an ordinance for its adoption to be presented to Borough Council at its March meeting, Monday night.

With the tax rate set, final adoption of the 1953 budget is expected at this meeting.

He also said that the Warren Recreation Board, because of its absence from town of some of its members, will be unable to meet prior to the session of Council to draft its recommendations in regard to the construction, by Civil Defense unit, of a new observation post at War Memorial Field which can also be used as a press box. The Board will meet next week but the matter will not come before Council until the April meeting.

Ordinances providing for the purchase of approximately three-fourths of an acre of ground from Nelson and Ellberg, at the foot of Market street, for use as a municipal parking lot, for the vacating of a portion of River street, and for the sale of a lot adjoining the Anthony Font property at 11 Nesmith street will be other matters business to come before Council Monday.

FLAGGED IN TIME
State police, informed of an auto accident at the double railroad crossing on Route 8 between Reno and Franklin Tuesday night, arrived at the scene in time to flag down a New York Central freight train when it was several hundred yards from the wreck. The car, whose occupants were all teenagers, had skidded at the curve on the crossing approach and had landed alongside the tracks. The teenagers were unaware of the on-coming freight.

LAKE STEAMER PLANS
Jamestown Sun: Plans for operating the steamer "City of Jamestown" on Chautauqua Lake during the coming summer were discussed Wednesday evening at a meeting of the steamer's board of directors and trustees in the Hotel Governor Fenton. Lack of public support prevented the operation of the steamer last year, causing the vessel to lie at the boatlanding dock throughout the summer. It was revealed at the meeting that approximately $5,000 will be necessary to insure the steamer's operation during the coming summer. Several plans for raising this sum were presented. Final plans will be adopted at a meeting to be held Tuesday, March 10. Disuse of the vessel last year has resulted in some damage to the superstructure, and the steamer is seriously in need of repainting, it was reported. The hull and engine were said to be in top condition.

Report on Red Cross Drive Expected Friday

Red Cross Headquarters had no report for today as to the progress of the Red Cross Fund Drive of $26,117. It is evident that the ward workers in their house to house solicitation may have gotten off to a slow start the first few days of this week, due to unfavorable weather. It is hoped that tomorrow night there will be a fairly complete report available as to the progress in the nine wards of the borough and maybe the first, early reports from the county at large. The Industrial, Special Gifts and Commercial Division had but fragmentary reports at noon today and it is hoped that this evening the leaders of these 3 divisions will have gathered together some totals that the public may know how the fund campaign is going.

Blame Teen-Age Boys For Larceny of Purse

Chief of Police Mike Evan said today that theft of a purse at the Lexington avenue plant of the Sylvania Electric Corporation, which occurred last Friday afternoon, had been found to be the work of a couple of teen-age boys. The lads were apprehended by Patrolman William Hewitt, who was in charge of the case.

The boys, after taking about $3.50 from the purse, dumped it in a garbage can at a local restaurant. Employees of Valentine's Disposal found it and turned it over to police, which gave them the lead in apprehending the culprits. Whether or not they will be certified to juvenile court is still under advisement by District Attorney M. A. Kornreich, Chief Evan said.

Jan Hearings for Four Suspects in Butler Case

Butler (P)—State Police Capt. William Hanna said a hearing is expected to be held "sometime late day" for four men and a teen-aged girl charged with murder in the slaying of Mrs. Alice Storch. The hearing scheduled for last night, was postponed for an undisclosed reason.

Ernest E. Storch, 30, is accused of hiring three Pittsburgh negroes for $10,000 to kill his 49-year-old wife. They are Richard Haines, 28; Walter Henderson 26; and Russell Budd, 28. Mrs. Storch was strangled and stabbed in her Butler County home near Zellenople on Feb. 24.

St. Joseph's Scout Troop Plans Charter Night Next Sunday

Boy Scout Troop 6 of St. Joseph's church will be presented their charter Sunday night at 7:30 o'clock at St. Joseph's church.

Court of honor will follow in the scout rooms with the awarding of merit badges.

Troop 6 is made up of over 20 boys from the west side and south side of Warren. Joe Acka is Scoutmaster and Harry Cooper his assistant.

The Troop has been built up to a fine organization, and has made many advancements in Scouting. It is sponsored by St. Joseph's church with the Rev. Father Bauer as pastor, and the Rev. Father Leon as institutional representative.

Explorer Post No. 6, with Robert Cassus as advisor, will be awarded their charter and merit badges at the same ceremony and lunch will be served.

The Troop committee is made up of Joseph Manno, Edward J. Martin, Dr. J. T. Valone, Joseph Gray, Patrick and Sam Gerardi, A. C. "Scotty" Scallie, Albert Book, W. J. Lopez, Ralph Mancuso, Anthony Barone, Leo D. Gibson, with Frank Mason as chairman.

Conewango Board Hears Discussion On Beat Addition

The Conewango township school board at its last meeting heard a lengthy report from Mrs. Clariel Kurz, school nurse, pertaining to ring worm infection in the North Warren School. Persistent cases are endangering uninfected children and the board arranged for the use of a Wood lamp detecting light upon all children in Conewango Township schools.

School supplies were listed for the next year and co-ordinated textbooks and library books will be listed and approved at the next meeting.

A discussion about the addition to the Beaty School in Warren was presided over by Robert Jewell, representative on the Joint Committee.

Routine reports by principals, secretary, and treasurer were received and approved.

Work on the budget was commenced and it is hoped that the tax-rate can be set at the next meeting.

Cafeteria "work alips" will be adopted at the North Warren school and will be filled out each morning by teachers so the cafeteria can accurately arrange for the noon meal.

Other items discussed included the pre-school clinic, contract forms, and new teachers required for next year.

'53 Pontiac

A GENERAL MOTORS MASTERPIECE

Solid Choice of Solid Citizens!

In its distinctive beauty, its size and comfort, its interior luxury and its all-around performance, Pontiac ranks high among America's quality cars—yet it's priced just above the lowest!

Thus Pontiac has an almost irresistible appeal to people who find it wise to keep their automobile investment at a minimum—without sacrificing quality. It is this unique combination of goodness and price which makes Pontiac the solid choice of those solid citizens who are money wise and quality conscious.

The reasons for this preference were never more obvious than in the 1953 Pontiac. But more important, it carries on Pontiac's tradition of long life and carefree, economical dependability.

Come in and see how this great new car offers wonderful proof that "Dollar for Dollar You Can't Beat a Pontiac."

TO EASE INCOME TAX CHORE

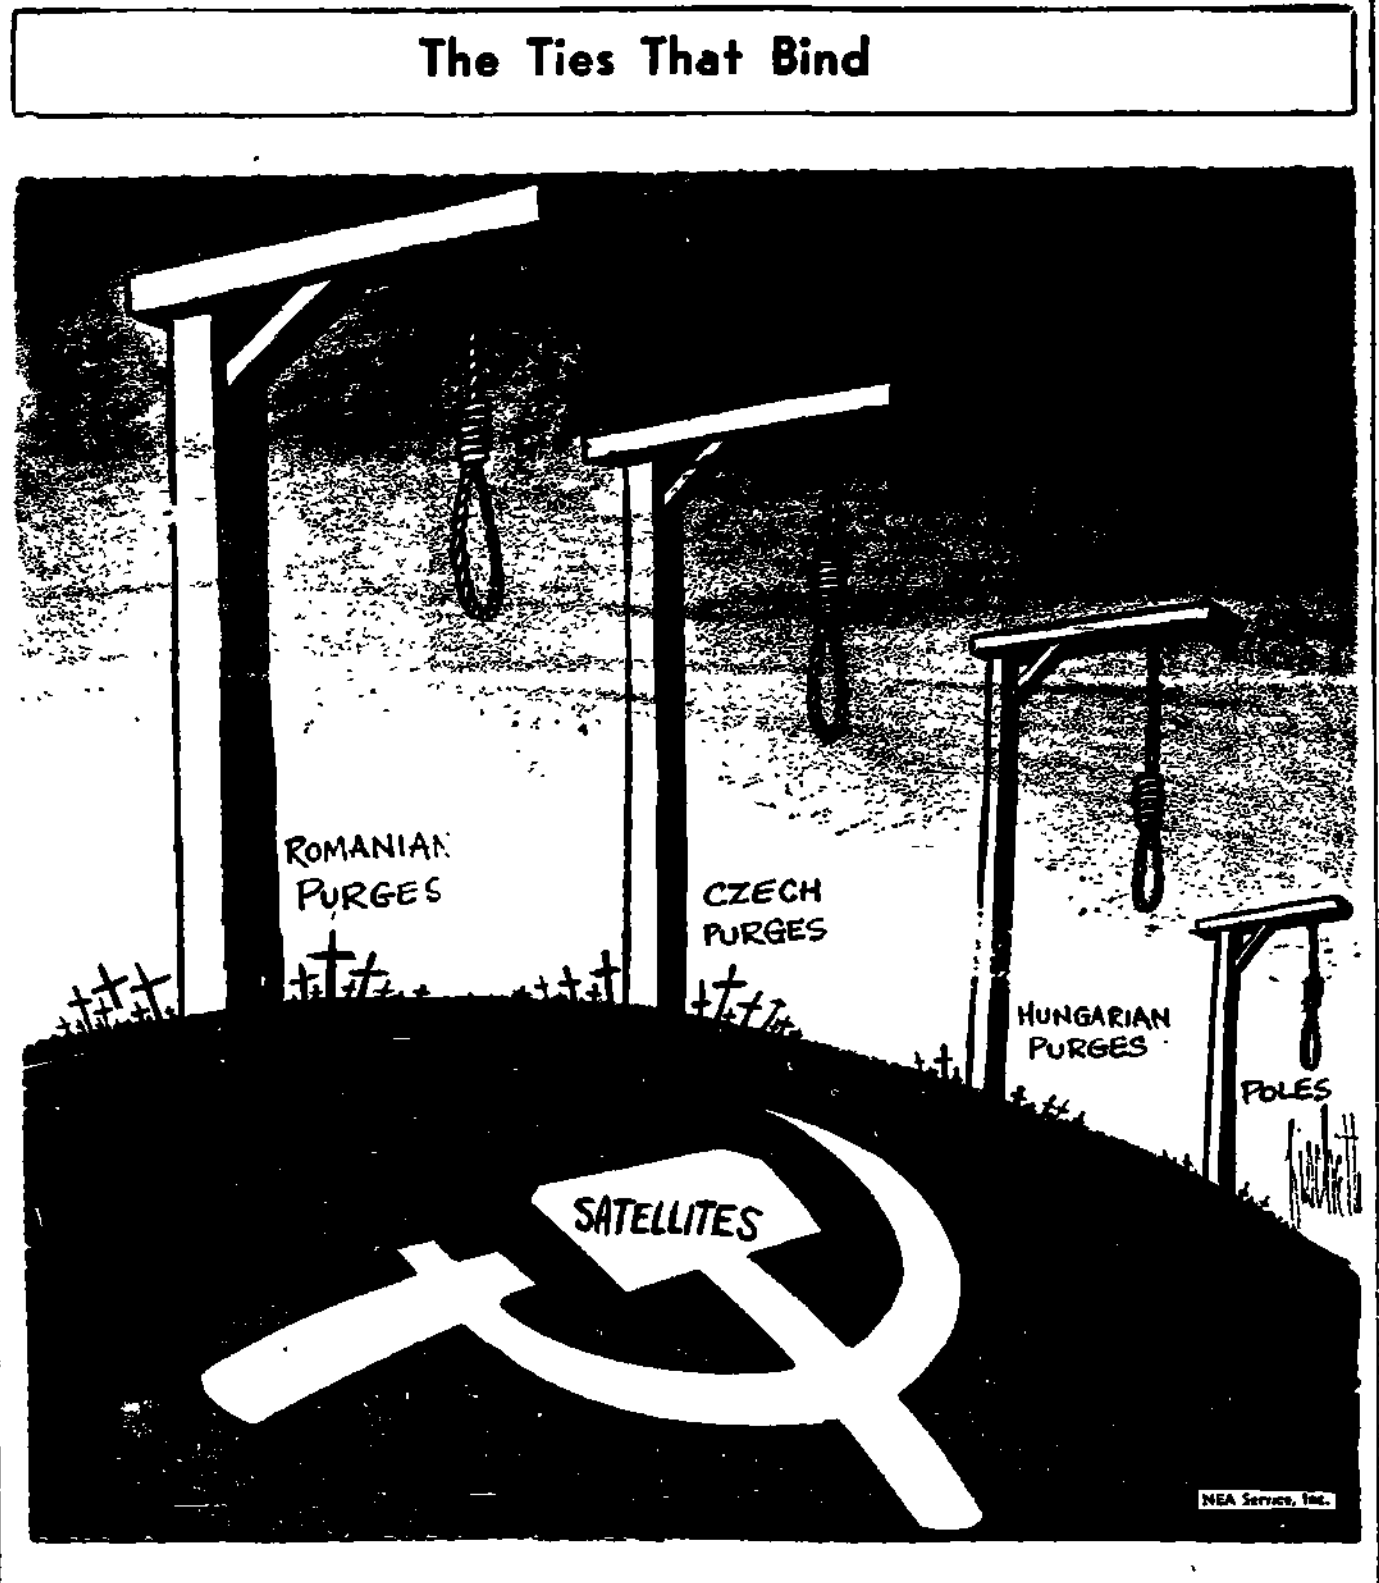

Relief may be coming to millions who are now busy making out their income tax forms. But the relief won't come until next year, apparently.

T. Coleman Andrews, Internal Revenue commissioner, says that his department is working on plan which will save 40 million taxpayers the job of filling out forms each year. This would be done by "automatic assessment" of the taxpayer, through withholding tax payments, and receipts sent him each year for taxes withheld.

Such a plan, it's presumed, would cover only persons whose sole income is in the form of wages and which withholding taxes are paid. They would be rewarded to the government their employer's annual statement of taxes and skip the ordeal of filling out income tax forms.

Andrews made the promise, "We're working hard on the project."

Meanwhile, March 16 is the deadline for forwarding this year's tax payments.

Here And There

In connection with the announcement that the Franklin News-Herald is observing its 75th year, the following that appeared on page five of The Warren Evening Mirror fifty years ago, February 19th, is rather interesting:

The twenty-fifth anniversary number of the Franklin News was issued this week and a copy of the same has been received by the Mirror. The production is a very creditable one and could only be produced from a plant having the most modern and extensive facilities. The number consists of 32 pages and the content is devoted to a history of the publication since its inception, a resume of some of the leading institutions of the thriving community, communications from prominent persons who are residents of the town or who have claimed "The Nursery" their home town in the past, as well as much additional interesting matter. The issue is abundantly illustrated and typographically it is perfect.

The present manager, J. B. Borland, started The News in company with two companions in 1878. The first number of the paper, which is reproduced in the anniversary number, is about the size of a handbill, and contains a few paragraphs of news. The enterprise, however, was a permanent one and gradually it grew from the "schoolboy" stage to a journal of some pretension. Today there is no paper in the state published in a town the size of Franklin that presents a better news service or has a more complete plant than the News. Mr. Borland has found it no easy task to build up his paper to its present status. Opposition sheets have sprung into existence, but they fell in the race for supremacy and those who imagine that it is an easy matter to build up a prosperous daily were forced to retire with the loss of capital invested.

The News is now on a permanent basis and The Mirror compliments it upon its success and wishes it another quarter of a century of success.

Terse, Tart and Timely: Up at South Dayton, N. Y., when 108 citizens met to protest against a smoke nuisance, a housewife showed the village board a dark blouse which she said, was white after she washed it and when she hung it on the line to dry. . . . Jamestown's ill wind which prevented a full skating schedule this winter is blowing good in a cash balance of approximately $4,273, which officials are planning to use to good advantage in promoting other recreational facilities. . . . 1953 Pennsylvania license plates may not be used legally until March 15, unless you want to run the risk of being called upon to pay a fine and costs amounting to $15, although the 1952 plates are in effect until March 31st. . . . Sixty children were guests of the Kane Kiwanis club at their regular meeting Monday night. . . . and that reminds us, Art Chapman, vice president of the Sylvania Electric Products, Inc., was the guest speaker at the regular meeting of the Kane Rotary club Monday, and during his talk the Warren man is quoted as saying that color television may become a reality within five years. . . . Connecticut Motor Vehicles Commissioner Charles F. Kelly suggests that interior lights should be turned on as well as parking and tail lights when a car stalls on the road at night, tests showing that interior lights often silhouette a car for approaching drivers better than exterior lights. . . .

Kiwanis Klub Kapers: Portions of letters from Cliff Betts, past president, written from Hollywood, Fla., where he is combining pleasure with business, furnished the explanation for generous helpings of grapefruit, oranges and kumquats found on the tables when the Kiwanians met Wednesday noon for their regular session. . . . Wally Sedwick had several letters from the Betts Machine Co. president, which, the popular dentist suggested, indicated that the weather must have been pretty tough since Betts had plenty of time to write. . . . One of the communications listed the large number of gifts presented Betts at a Kiwanis meeting in Hollywood, but did not explain the occasion for the "shower," but it was later brought out in a letter received by the editor of the Times-Mirror that it happened that the Warren man was the 7,500th guest to visit the Kiwanis Club in the Florida resort. . . . Called upon to talk briefly on the Blood Donor program of the Red Cross Howard Lauffenberger called attention to the fact that the main speaker Harold Curtis, as well as Wally Sedwick both resided in the upper Conewago section, expressing a little apprehension over the fact that some may gain the impression that it was a "Hooktown" program. . . . Some members were inclined to be a little skeptical about portions of Sedwick's report from Betts, accusing the chairman of the president's committee of too much ad-libbing. . . . 'Incentive' Study May Throw Light on Future Tax Policies

BY PETER EDSON
NEA Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON—(NEA)—When a Harvard professor is not listed in Who's Who, he should be noteworthy. This distinction belongs to Dan Throop Smith, bespectacled and balding young professor of finance at the Harvard School of Business Administration, who has been brought into the Eisenhower administration as head of Treasury's analysis staff.

This is the Republicans' new brain-trust organization which has been set up to do policy planning on taxation, debt management and government financing. It has taken over part of the research functions of the old Treasury technical staff and tax advisory staff, which have been abolished.

Out of Professor Smith's past has come a detailed study on "incentives," which may throw some light on new tax policies that will at least be considered by the Eisenhower administration.

This word "incentive" has been tossed around rather loosely and without anyone pinning it down to say just what was involved. The general theory behind it is that business doesn't expand and individuals don't show the proper ambition when high taxes reduce their income and destroy their initiative to go places and do things.

THERE have been a couple of books written on the subject. "Effects of Taxation on Executives," by Prof. Chellis A. Hall, Jr., of Yale and "Effects of Taxation on Executives," by Prof. Thomas H. Sanders of Harvard. Before the National Tax Association convention in Dallas in 1951, Professor Smith undertook a condensation of these books and other literature and thinking on the subject. It is today perhaps the briefest and most definitive statement on incentives that exists.

Professor Sanders is quoted on the conclusion that day-to-day activities of executives have not been lessened by high taxes. Pride and desire to dominate are still good non-monetary incentives to do a good job. Furthermore, countries that do not have high income taxes have not had imaginative business leadership.

But the question is raised of what effects high taxes would have on the choice of career if they were continued for, say, 30 years or more. If such taxes forced more bright boys into government service, it would not be an unmitigated evil, Professor Smith concludes.

Salary increases and bonuses do become less attractive as tax rates go higher, he says. By contrast, any deferred compensation can be made attractive because it will be subject to lower tax rates. This has led to the development of pension plans.

An alternative is a stock purchase option plan. It provides an opportunity for capital gains, which are taxed less than high pay.

THE effect of pension and other deferred-payment plans is analyzed as tending to freeze executives in one firm, continued employment. To the extent that this reduces labor turnover, it is considered a good thing. But to the extent that it tends to make executives too sure of their future, and so reduce their incentive, it might have the opposite effect.

"On balance," Professor Smith declared, "it is my belief that under a system of high taxation, the compulsory retirements required under pension plans increase efficiency. . . . It is not clear to me whether personal accumulations under a lower tax system might not also provide a basis for retirements."

Smaller companies have been reluctant to adopt pension plans, says Professor Smith, because they mean higher fixed costs. And the attraction of capital gains is greater in small business.

Since stock options were given favorable tax treatment in 1950, they have come nearest to giving salaried executives the long-term, proprietary point of view.

PATH TO DECENTRALIZATION

Long overdue is the survey of President Eisenhower has ordered into the question of conflicting and overlapping sources of federal and state revenue.

One great reason why government in Washington has tended to get bigger and bigger is that it as monopolized many tax sources and has encroached on others heavily relied upon by the states. The asoline tax is an example of the latter.

Mr. Eisenhower wants to know how this conflict can be resolved so that both state and federal units can find their own reliable revenue sources. Such a study is an essential preliminary both to economies in government and to a restoration to the state level of many government functions that federal agencies have taken over virtually by default. This is the path to wise decentralization.

Today's Message

Jesus evidently wanted His followers to learn that their effectiveness depended upon what they had built into their own characters. He wanted them to learn the things of inner integrity that they could take with them wherever they went.

Such an emphasis is greatly needed today when the externals are changing so rapidly. "You can't take it with you," is a popular phrase and represents a truth we need to learn, but it also implies a greater truth: "You can take it with you." We can take with us faith, courage, good will, helpfulness to those who need our help, integrity to our best belief in God and man, wherever we go. When we learn to use these, we can then make proper use of the material things which are available.

Religion in our day is undergoing another acid test, the externals are being eaten away, but this will bring to light again the things which cannot be destroyed. We are called to be witnesses to these things. We may look to the future with hope and confidence because the Spirit of Truth is still leading us back to old truths and into new truth.
—THEODORE H. EVANS

Today's Prayer

O Father, grant that in days of confusion and change we may rediscover Thy peace and Thy changeless purpose of building a better life in us that we may help to build a better world.

ELAINE STONE ON DEAN'S LIST

Mr. and Mrs. Warren Stone, 606 Conewango avenue, have been advised by Dr. Harold R. Rice, Dean of Moore Institute of Art, Science and Industry at Philadelphia, that their daughter, Miss Elaine, has earned a place on the Dean's List for the semester ending in January by averaging 90% or better during the period.

Miss Stone is majoring in fashion design at Moore, is secretary of Student Council, and frequently writes for the student newspaper. Last Friday, she was one of two girls representing her college at the World Affairs Council held at the University of Pennsylvania. The session discussed "trade versus aid as a possible panacea for the European and world trade situation."

PRESBYTERIAN MEETING

Sugar Grove—Dr. Robert Patterson, Chautauqua, will continue to fill the local Presbyterian pulpit until Easter. The Rev. George Kerchner, stated clerk and general presbyter of the Erie Presbytery, conducted the service last Sunday morning and presided at a meeting of the session at which plans were discussed for filling the charge.

THE most important thing about a thank-you note is to write it promptly. Better a short note the day you received a gift than a long letter three weeks later.

The next most important thing is to sound enthusiastic. Mention that the scarf "does things" for a certain suit or that you are already half-way through the book and enjoying it immensely or that you have yellow roses in the blue pitcher that was given you.

And you don't have to use that hackneyed phrase "Just what I wanted."

If you can make the giver see how you are using his gift, he'll believe it was "just what you wanted."

Salvation Army Speaker

Senior Captain Henry G. Berk- idt, officer of the Eastern Terri- tal Young People's Department the Salvation Army, will be the sial speaker at a service to be d at 8:00 p. m. Sunday at the al citadel, 218 Pennsylvania nue, west.

Girl Scout Units Present Program For Pleasant PTA

Brownie Troop 78 and Girl Scout Troop 51 of Pleasant township, under the direction of Mrs. Edward Slick, music consultant for the Girl Scout Council, presented a delightful program for parents and friends at the regular meeting of Pleasant PTA.

The little Brownies entertained with a lovely song and dance and later joined the Girl Scouts in song. Scouts enacted the very inspiring friendship candlelighting service, with 12 girls participating.

Mrs. Mildred Nollinger, Scout leader, presented Margaret Eaton, a member of International Troop 100 of Warren, who spoke enthusiastically of the anticipated tour of Europe this summer and how the girls are raising necessary funds.

Miss Eaton was presented with a jar of coins representing 12 pennies from each of the girls in the Pleasant troop. Later in the evening, the PTA voted a gift of $5 to the International Troop.

Concluding the program, Mrs. Nollinger presented badges for sewing, photography and winter sports to various members of Troop 51.

Following the program, the regular business meeting was conducted by the acting president, Mrs. Rex Confer, who introduced Ralph Sures for a short talk on the current Red Cross drive.

Members voted a gift of $5 to the Red Cross; Mrs. Janet Johnson was named chairman of the nominating committee for the April meeting; and Mrs. Charles Blackman volunteered to chairman the March Hot Dog Sale.

A report was made that a Senior Girl Scout Troop recently formed in the township is in need of a sponsor and funds, but no action was taken in the matter.

Definite decision concerning a Spring Festival was also shelved and the meeting was adjourned for refreshments served by Mrs. Harriet Alexander, Mrs. Evelyn Genberg, Mrs. Imogene Schaeffer, Mrs. Miles Tremblay, Mrs. Fae Gigliotti and Mrs. Glenn Elliott.

Clarendon Cub Pack 32 enjoyed an attendance of 72 boys, parents and special guests for their annual Blue and Gold dinner held in the parlors of the Clarendon Evangelical United Brethren church.

Immediately following dinner, for which the Rev. V. H. Oviatt gave the invocation, Chairman Earl Brian introduced the special guests: John Hickey, Clarendon, who is the Boy Scout county representative; Robert Caldwell, Warren, and William Wehner, Warren, the Boy Scout commissioner.

The Cubs were then presented with their flag and colors by the VFW Auxiliary, President Christina Thompson as representative of the unit and the senior vice president, Mabel Nobles, giving the blessing of the flags. Flag bearers for the Cubs were Billy Miley and Bobby Larsen.

Roll call of Cubs and Den Mothers was then taken, showing only one absentee. Awards were made

South Side Family Going to Greece

Each den then presented a skit for the entertainment of the audience and the closing prayer was voiced by Rev. Arthur Pang, pastor of the Evangelical United Brethren church.

EAGLES' AUXILIARY
The regular meeting of the Eagles' Auxiliary was conducted by President Jessie Eadie, with a large turnout and attendance prizes won by Grace Miller and Wilma Cook.

A degree team practice was called for Sunday evening at seven o'clock, and a memorial practice will be held Monday evening. All who intend to be in the degree team are requested to be in attendance for this important practice session.

Adventist Groups Convene in Erie

Representatives of the Warren and Youngsville Dorcas Societies church were in Erie Wednesday for the Northwest Dorcas Federation meeting, called to study methods of expanding welfare activities.

Comprising the local group were Mrs. Dorothy Calhoun, Mrs. Bertha Ackley, Mrs. Louise Nelson, Mrs. Vernice Nelson, Lewis Nelson, Mrs. Maud Ash, Miss Leona Ash, Mrs. Florence Kerr, Mrs. Elsie Lauger, Mrs. Gladys Shattenberg and E. D. Shattenberg.

Elder Kenneth H. Wood, secretary of the Dorcas welfare organizations for the Columbia Union Conference, was principal speaker for the day. He emphasized the fact that the Dorcas Health and Welfare Service is not to be in competition with other welfare agencies, but to cooperate with them. It is also to work in behalf of the underprivileged in a field not covered by existing relief organizations, whenever and wherever found; and is to educate in the realm of health principles.

Study was given to better ways to serve the needy in local communities and to extending as much aid as is possible to war-ravaged countries. Dorcas societies reported their clothing activities for the past five months, including distribution to needy locally, to West Germany, Korea and the British West Indies. Food baskets were also given and aid was extended families whose homes were lost in fire.

HEMLOCK GROUP
The March business meeting of the Hemlock Community Club was held last evening, with initiation of several new members, and refreshments served by Mrs. J. W. Green. For the monthly social meeting at 7:30 p. m. March 18, a program will be given by Datus Lacy, with a cordial invitation extended to the public, and all members urged to be in attendance.

SCHOOL NEWS!

By Warren High News Writing Class

From a study of 3,000 boys and girls, sixteen to eighteen years of age, who obtained their drivers' licenses in 1950, a Driver Training Study, made by the Department of Revenue and the Department of Public Instruction, has been re- leased by Francis B. Haas, super- intendent of public instruction in Pennsylvania. The 3,000 drivers are divided into two groups of 1,500 each. The one group reciev- ed instruction in driver education in the public schools in Pennsylv- ania, while the other group "by and large received no formal training.

For the group trained in the schools, the records compiled to December 5, 1952, show 41 acci- dents and 17 arrests, while the untrained group had a total of 121 accidents and 86 arrests. The acci- dent rate for the untrained group is about three times as great as for the trained, and the arrest rate is five times greater.

Classifying these two groups ac- cording to the sex of the drivers, the record states that boys in the group trained in schools had 26 of the accidents and 13 of the arrests. Girls had 15 accidents and four arrests. The difference is even greater for the untrained, as 109 boys had accidents while only 12 girls were involved. The record of arrests shows 84 boys and two girls.

The male accident rate per 100 operators is 2.8 times greater than the female rate in the trained group, while with those having received no formal training it is 3.3 times greater.

For trained boys the arrest rate per 100 operators is 5.5 times greater than that for girls, but it is 15.4 times greater for the un- trained.

Mr. Haas points out that it is encouraging to note that the effect of the driver education program tends to eliminate the differences of the accident and arrest rate be- tween the sexes and calls atten- tion to the part of that report that shows that the greatest dif- ference for the accident and arrest rates were in the untrained group. He states the findings are most encouraging in showing the suc- cess of the driver education pro- gram and in pointing to areas where greater emphasis should be placed in the future.

Snakebite Antidote

Snake venom antidote is made by extracting the poison from the snake's glands, injecting it in in- creasing quantities into a healthy horse, and then extracting part of the horse's blood, which is the serum used as the antidote.

EYE VS. TELESCOPE

When seen through a telescope, stars appear smaller than when viewed with the naked eye. The telescope eliminates the diffused light which we see without the instrument.

Polish Pilot Flees His Homeland in Red Plane

Rosanne, Bornholm, Denmark (AP)—A Polish pilot fleeing from his Soviet-dominated homeland landed a Russian-built MIG15 jet fighter at Rosenne airport this morning, police reported. His escape was believed here to be the first time one of the power- ful Red jets, mainstay of the Com- munist Air Force in Korea, has been brought outside the Iron Curtain undamaged. The pilot asked Danish authori- ties for political asylum. He was whisked off to police head- quarters for questioning before newsmen could learn his name. Photographers and newsmen were barred from the plane.

But 3,637 Bridges On State Highways Carry Restrictions

Harrisburg—Of the 20,391 bridges across the numerous streams of Pennsylvania, the number that must be posted due to inability to carry sufficient weight or inadequate clearance or for both insufficient capacity and clearance has been reduced to 3,637, Secretary of Highways E. L. Schmidt announced today. The primary total has been reduced to 605 posted bridges while the rural highway system has been cut down to 3,032. On the primary system, lack of capacity has compelled the greatest number of bridge postings. These number 407. Due to insufficient clearance 179 are posted while both inadequate clearance and capacity has caused 19 to be posted. On the Rural State Highway System today's greater sizes and weights compel the posting of 2482 structures, with 321 having insufficient clearance and with 229 lacking both adequate clearance and capacity, for a total of 3032 posted structures. These bridges are scattered over the entire State Highway System with the nine-county District 8, the largest, leading with 619 posted bridges in the counties of Adams, Cumberland, Franklin, York, Dauphin, Juniata, Lancaster, Lebanon and Perry. More than four hundred each remain in District 1, District 3 and District 4. More than three hundred each remain in District 9 and District 12. Between two and three hundred remain on the State Highways of Districts 6 and 10 while Districts 2, 5 and 11 each have less than two hundred. District 11, smallest district in the State with two counties, Allegheny and Beaver, likewise has the least number of posted bridges, only 96. These posted structures are principally on the lesser traveled roads, Schmidt pointed out. Nevertheless, he added, every effort is being made to reduce their number as rapidly as possible. Meanwhile, the Department of Highways has established special facilities through which haulers of loads too bulky for the clearances or too heavy for the posted weights may be routed so as to avoid difficulties.

Mystery Ailment Is Rapidly Killing Off Skunks and Coons

The Game Commission reports that distemper or some other disease that periodically attacks skunks has reduced their numbers drastically in some areas. Skunks are usually considered allies of farmers because they destroy many grubs and other insect life. At this winter's prices, skunk pelts had little value on the fur market. Should the fur return to popularity while the animal is scarce, farm boys and professional trappers would miss a revenue they enjoyed in years gone by. Whatever the malady, its occurrence is sectional and occurs only as skunks become numerous. It does not strike again until populations recover. For this reason, one area may be recovering while another is at a low point immediately following a heavy die-off. In different areas of the state, raccoons, too, have been reported dying in alarming numbers. Through the State's Bureau of Animal Industry, the Game Commission had dead and dying specimens analyzed in an effort to learn the source of the trouble. Laboratory examinations to date have failed to reveal the cause of mortality in coons. None of the animals examined had rabies or any common disease. Symptoms would suggest a virus disease such as nervous distemper. Laboratory tests continue in an effort to learn exactly what is causing the trouble among Pennsylvania's ringtails. America's deep chasm is the gorge of the Snake River at Hell's Canyon, between Oregon and Idaho.

Many From Area Attend Big Dinner At Tampa, Florida

According to a letter just received from St. Petersburg, Fla., Warren was well represented at a ladies' night held recently in the beautiful Rite Temple in Tampa, when some 400 Masons and their wives sat down to a sumptuous turkey dinner. Ladies from all over the state of Florida and many visitors from northern states were present.

A special feature of the affair was the recognition given visitors from the north who have winter homes in Florida, including a Mrs. Greer, Tampa, and Mrs. Friday and Mrs. John H. Young, of St. Petersburg during the tourist season and Lakewood, N. Y., in the summer. They were honored with special gifts. Mrs. Young being presented with a beautiful orchid. In addition to the women mentioned above others in the party were Mrs. Ella Buckle, Robert E. Lee, Dr. and Mrs. L. M. Barnard, all of St. Petersburg.

The writer of the communication also mentions these facts:

The southern people are very courteous and friendly to tourists, endeavoring to make them feel at home. According to the St. Petersburg Independent some 250,000 northern folks are temporary citizens of that winter resort city.

Another item the writer mentions is the fact that the outstanding leaders of Freemasonry in the south, are also leaders and loyal supporters of all work in the churches.

A. P. Reporter Says Moscow Apparently Playing Straight On Story of Stalin Illness

Editor's Note: William L. Ryan, AP's Russian-speaking specialist on the news of Communism, has long been a close student of what will happen in the Soviet Union when Stalin dies. Now observing Communist operations in Europe, Asia and Africa, he cables these views from Paris on the Soviet dictator's illness and what it presages.

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
AP Foreign News Analyst
Paris, (AP)—Moscow seems to be playing it straight with the story of Stalin's illness, and this in itself indicates there is division and uncertainty among the rulers of the Soviet Union.

If there were perfect concord among the powers of the Kremlin—that is, if there were someone at the top whose authority was unquestioned—it seems unlikely that Stalin's illness, apparently his final one, would have been announced so quickly.

The stroke was sudden. Indian Ambassador K. P. S. Menon saw the Soviet leader only a few days ago and reported him in apparent good health.

Soviet authorities held up the announcement for his illness only two days. For most Soviet leaders, such a grave illness is usually announced in the obituary.

Maybe the would-be heirs were unable to hold the news up long and preferred to feed such a profound shock to the Soviet public in small doses. While on faction may be pre-eminent at the present time, the chances are it is far from secure in its pre-eminence.

As at the time of Lenin's death, there is every chance for a struggle for Stalin's mantle, even though he has appeared to have chosen Deputy Premier Georgi M. Malenkov as his successor.

If Malenkov proves a winner, the West can look for a most cautious regime while he consolidates himself and his adherents—a regime, in fact, which could be almost conservative. Malenkov would take no chances with his power. His adherents are among the younger element in the Communist party.

More than ever now if Malenkov wins out, the Soviet Union may be expected to take no chances with a step which might lead to the cataclysm of a war, which it might not survive. Undoubtedly, his fifth columns would continue their work throughout the world. But Malenkov is a man who likes a cheap victory and would retreat when it was necessary to make himself wholly secure.

Legalized Betting Bill Is Introduced In State Assembly

Harrisburg, (AP)—Voters would decide at the May 19 primary whether they want legalized horse race betting in Pennsylvania under a new house bill introduced by Rep. Harold A. Yetser (D-Berk).

The plan originally was suggested by the Pennsylvania Association of County Fairs.

If the referendum passed, the bill provides for the establishment of a State Racing Commission and the construction of three one-mile tracks and five half-mile ovals within the commonwealth.

The state would receive six per cent of all betting at the tracks, 10 per cent of the track admissions and 20 per cent of the gross receipts of the concessions.

The state's share of the profits would be earmarked to retire World War II soldiers' bonus bonds.

The only restriction on the location of the tracks was that the one-mile ovals could not be closer than 100 miles to each other and the smaller plants not nearer than 150 miles to each other.

The bill was referred to the House Law and Order Committee.

The Wright brothers' first airplane was smashed to pieces after its fourth flight and although it never flew again, it was rebuilt and after being exhibited in England for many years is now in the Smithsonian Institution in Washington, D. C.

Ike Says Threat Of War Is Lessened By Civil Defense

Washington, (AP)—President Eisenhower said today the American people can reduce the chances of a third world war by building a strong and vigilant civil defense organization.

Eisenhower made the statement at the White House swearing in of Val Peterson, former governor of Nebraska, as federal civil defense administrator.

The President said the job of civil defense is vital to national security and "means developing a preparedness, a vigilance, so impressive as to deter aggression itself."

Peterson said in a statement that adequate civil defense requires an investment of little money and little effort in contrast to the rest of America's defense program.

"We cannot, however, hope to win the cold war or survive World War III as a nation unless we have a sound civil defense program in being."

IMPORTANT BIRDS
Experts calculate that six to ten years without birds would bring to a close the earth's entire system of animate nature. Insects would increase to such proportions that everything would be devoured or smothered.

World's largest earthen dam is Fort Peck, in Montana.

Soaring Copper Prices Bring Cheer to Mining Areas of the West, Headache to Industry

New York, (P)—The price of ... copper has gone scampering up— ... bringing cheer to the mining areas ... of the West and a new headache ... for many manufacturers of con- ... sumer goods. ... There is no immediate prospect ... of a rise in the retail price of ... household appliances, autos, or ... electrical equipment. But the ... costs of making them will go up, ... and the pressure for higher prices ... will be increased. ... Customer price resistance and ... keen competition likely will keep a ... strong brake on prices—and an ... extra squeeze on the profit margin. ... The copper industry, although ... quick to hike its prices when con- ... trols went off, is keeping a nervous ... eye on the aluminum industry— ... which didn't raise prices on the ... light metal when controls ended. ... Copper is so scarce now and in ... such demand that its price could ... be raised still higher—and may ... well be for a time. ... But coppermen are well aware ... that if copper becomes too expen- ... sive, such of their customers as ... can switch to aluminum as a sub- ... stitute might make the jump— ... and might not return to copper ... when the price goes down again. ... This fear is in part responsible ... for the present confusion in the ... copper market, with prices being ... quoted all up and down the scale. ... Big producers are fearful of send- ... ing prices too high. ... Freed from the 24½ cent a ... pound ceiling, domestic copper ... companies hiked prices by three to ... four cents. Some custom smelters ... sent prices up 11½ cents to around ... the 36½ cents a pound which Chile ... gets for its copper in the U. S. ... market. ... Custom smelters buy both cop- ... per ore and copper scrap and re- ... fine it. Copper scrap prices were ... decontrolled two weeks ago and ... immediately jumped higher than ... the controlled price of virgin cop- ... per. ... This week scrap has been quoted ... at 29½ cents, but the smelters ... have been buying little, naturally, ... since they had to sell refined cop- ... per at the lower price. ... Now the industry expects a per- ... iod of confusion while the buyers ... and sellers test out the market. ... Extreme swings of domestic cop- ... per prices up to the level of for- ... eign copper is expected by some. ... But later both the domestic and ... foreign prices are expected to set- ... tle somewhere half way between ... the old domestic price of 24½ ... cents and the Chilean price of 36½ ... cents. ... Some coppermen are betting that 30 cents a pound may be the ... levelling off point. ... They base this in part on the ... reports that deals are under way ... with four Canadian copper com- ... panies to sell a large part of their ... production for the next two years ... to the U. S. government for its ... defense stockpile. The reported ... price for the two-year deal is 30 ... cents a pound.

Repainting of Air Markers Approved

- Other features of the new bill would:
1. Increase jail terms from six months to one year and fines from $500 to $1,000 for persons convicted of making unlawful applications for relief.
 2. Speed up prosecution of violators by allowing the Public Assistance Department to take fraud cases directly to court instead of first going to justices of the peace or aldermen.
 3. Shift responsibility for care of the indigent, homeless or transient from the state to county homes or private agencies.
 4. Require county assistance boards to obey state regulations on overall standards and eligibility.
 5. Authorize the public assistance department to hire special investigators.
 6. Make county boards keep a constant check on the eligibility of persons on relief.
 7. Require county assistance boards to organize once a year instead of just when the chairman calls an organization meeting.
 8. Permit members of county boards to serve three consecutive terms instead of two.
 9. Ban relief payments to blind persons who are in prison.
- It is believed that about 15 per cent of commercially available water power in the United States has been developed.

Bell Co. Spends Huge Sums Daily Adding New Equipment

The Bell Telephone Company of Pennsylvania added more than 300,000 worth of new facilities every working day, on the average, during 1952. W. D. Gillen, president, said in the company's annual report which was made public today.

Total gross expenditures for plant additions during the year amounted to $78,638,000, he added. A similar amount is expected to be spent during 1953.

In reviewing the company's 1952 accomplishments, Gillen said that more than 12-million local and early two-thirds of a million toll calls were handled on an average day. This is at the rate of 8,887 a minute or 148 a second.

Nearly 354,000 new telephones were connected and more than 27,000 were disconnected during the year. This produced a net gain of 125,906 telephones. The total number of telephones in service at the close of 1952 was 2,956,525.

Six manually operated central offices were changed to dial, and nine new dial offices were placed in service. Work was completed or started on 30 new buildings and additions to 33 buildings were begun or finished.

There were also major additions to central office equipment at 51 locations completed or in progress at the end of the year, plus many smaller projects. Some 112 major "outside plant" construction jobs were completed.

Altogether, Gillen said, a total of 99,700 dial lines were added, sufficient to serve 145,000 subscribers. Working positions for 250 toll operators and 101 local operators were added to the switchboards.

Net income for the year dropped to $19,927,788, as compared to $21,024,567 the previous year, according to the report.

The number of employees increased more than 2,000 to a total of 35,078 at the end of the year—twice as many as were employed in 1940.

The report showed there were 35,598 persons waiting for service at the end of the year, a reduction from 47,506 at the end of 1951. Gillen pointed out that although the total was lower, "it is still a source of great concern that we were unable to fill all orders as placed."

P. M. F. Secretary Defends Recreation Bureau of State

"Pennsylvania's $500,000,000 tourist industry has reached a significant place in the general economy of the Commonwealth," R. B. Maxwell, of Harrisburg, secretary-manager of the Pennsylvania Motor Federation representing 57 member AAA clubs in the State, declares in a statement issued defending the Vacation and Recreation Bureau of the Department of Commerce despite a recommendation from the State Government Survey Committee recommending that the department be abolished.

In his statement defending this phase of the department's operations, only one of the many important activities carried on by the agency, Mr. Maxwell stated:

"Such a move would be detrimental to the best interests of Pennsylvania's tourist and travel industry, private business and to the Commonwealth itself."

The protest against the recommendation of the committee, more commonly known as the Chesterman or "Little Hoover" Committee, placed the State's PMF-AAA clubs among other groups objecting to the proposal.

"Rather than supporting the recommendation to abolish the Department of Commerce by the committee," which Mr. Maxwell undoubtedly did an excellent job on the whole in making suggestions for economy in State government, he said the organization "gives its wholehearted support to the opposition to such a move as expressed by Gov. John S. Fine himself and by many other groups."

Among other groups defending the State's tourist and travel business are the Pennsylvania Newspaper Publishers' Association and publishers of many individual newspapers; the Pennsylvania Hotels Association; the Tourist Advisory Committee to the Department of Commerce, and many more.

Mr. Maxwell explained a three-month check in 1951 revealed 10,118,000 motorists, using 4,119,000 passenger automobiles visited the State during the period, spending a million dollars a day. He added that the survey did not include persons who came to Pennsylvania by bus, plane or train, nor did it include Pennsylvanians traveling or vacationing in their home state.

He reported that figures based on actual survey showed the $800,000,000 figure for 1951 ranks the recreational travel and vacation business the ninth largest in the state, adding that last year the figure was even greater and that it may reach the billion dollar mark in 1953.

State Auto Tax Is Deductible in Fed. Income Levy Return

Harrisburg, Penna. March 3, 1953—Although the average Pennsylvania motor vehicle owner paid about $64.00 last year in special automotive taxes, he can only include $66.00 of this as a deductible item in figuring his federal income tax.

This is pointed out by J. E. Fisher, chairman of the Associated Petroleum Industries of Pennsylvania, in a reminder to motorists that state gasoline taxes at the rate of five cents per gallon and state motor license fees can be shown as deductions on federal income tax returns.

The 2-cent per gallon federal gasoline tax and federal levies on new cars, parts, accessories, lubricating oil, tires and tubes—while they add another $68.00 to the average vehicle owner's special tax bill—are not deductible, he said.

Mr. Fisher stressed that motorists would have to compute their own tax deductions on the basis of actual gasoline purchases and license fee payments during the year, but he predicted that many vehicle owners will be surprised to learn the amount involved in these items.

Citing a Federal Reserve Board study which shows that the typical car owner earns less than $4,000 per year, Mr. Fisher observed that many motorists actually pay more in special automotive taxes over a year's time than they pay in federal income tax.

YOUR FOREST RANGER

A strange, but very vital, crop is being measured at countless outdoor sampling areas on the roof of America at this time of the year. The first day of the month in February, March and April, regardless of weather conditions, forest and park rangers make their way by jeep, snowshoes or ski to established snow courses high in the Sierras, the Rockies and the Coast Ranges to accurately measure and weigh samples of snow which form the winter's crop of future irrigation water.

This annual crop of snow is, on most of the western national forests, the most valuable product produced and yet there are no financial returns from it to the Treasury of the United States. Like recreation, and wildlife it is a non-revenue producing resource which benefits countless thousands of people in the United States.

Here in the humid East, where snow is often regarded as just something to shovel from the sidewalk or plow from the highways, it is difficult to see where the snowfall on a southwestern mountain top has any effect upon our well being. And yet the grapefruit, or orange juice which you enjoyed for breakfast this morning may have contained water which once fell as snow on a high peak on the Apache National Forest in Arizona, and eventually found its way into the vast reservoir system and irrigation canals in the Salt River Valley which have turned a once barren desert into a fabulous orchard, truck farm and resort empire.

Strangely enough, very little of the moisture that falls as rain, below the 7,000 foot elevation, in the Southwest actually contributes much to the supply of irrigation water. Most of it is either quickly absorbed by the thirsty soil in situ, evaporated into the air, or in the form of flash floods brings a load of silt with it into the reservoir hastening the day when this costly monument to man's conquest of the desert will have to be abandoned.

The silent snowfall abiding all winter long in the high mountains is the real lifeblood of the land. Man cannot control the amount of this white mantle that clothes the mountains, but by zealously guarding the grass, shrubs and trees which protect this annual snow crop so that it will melt slowly and yield clear, silt-free water he can assure the irrigation farmer in the valley below adequate water for his thirsty crops, and a long, useful life for the reservoir that stores it.

25-Year-Man Wheelhorse of Office and Factory and Vital Link Between Old and Young

By HAL BOYLE

New York (AP)—Every field has its elder statesman.

In American politics today it is Bernard Baruch. In baseball for many years it was Connie Mack. In the American business world it is the 25-year man.

The 25-year man is the wheelhorse of office and factory, a vital link between the oldest member of the board of directors and the newest office boy.

Time was when the man who celebrated his 25th anniversary on the job did so with a grim feeling of wasted youth. The best he could hope for was a pat on his faithful back, and the worst was a look in the boss's eye that said, "Hm, maybe I'd better start looking around for a younger man."

The present value placed on years of service has made the 25-year man a vital figure in industry, and he is now recognized as a morale factor. The trend is toward rewarding him with something more substantial than a form letter of appreciation.

Take a typical case in the Acme Tiddlywinks Works. Old Joe Tenthumbs, a quarter century to the day from the morning he punched his first time clock, goes to work feeling a bit sorry for himself.

He still feels that way when suddenly the noon lunch whistle blows two minutes early. A group of grinning fellow workers surround dazed Joe and break into "For He's a Jolly Good Fellow." The boss then steps up and fastens into his lapel the Acme firm's 25-year-pin—a huge Tiddlywink emblazoned with the figure "25" and with Joe's name on back of it.

Joe is led in for a lunch with the firm's officials but is too excited inside to eat much. "Without men like you, Joe, we'd be out of business," the president says, and hands him a bonus check of $35—a buck for each year—"and just a token, of course."

Joe is then told to take the rest of the day off, and he trudges home blinded by the realization that all these years he has meant something.

His wife may say, "They could have given you a trip to Europe." The other men on the vast Tiddlywinks assembly line may kid him. "With that pin and a dime you can get a bus ride." And it may be true even that in Joe's own case his 25-year pin may represent the triumph of endurance over inability.

It makes no difference. Joe Tenthumbs is ever afterwards of higher stature, a person of more importance. He is an elder statesman, the other workers pay him a grudging respect, and his opinions are valued, even if he sometimes makes himself a nuisance with them.

And Joe himself secretly has a new goal. He looks forward to his 50th anniversary on the job. He wants to become the first man in the plant to win a 25-year pin with an oak leaf cluster.

NAM Asks Congress To Act on Strikes And 'Forced Union'

Washington (AP)—The National Association of Manufacturers today asked Congress to outlaw industry-wide strikes and outlaw all forms of "compulsory unionism" such as the union shop.

The NAM claims to represent 85 per cent of the nation's manufacturing capacity and to have more than 9,000 members.

In a statement prepared for the House Labor Committee, George W. Armstrong Jr., chairman of the association's Industrial Relations Committee, said:

"Aside from compulsory unionism, the greatest source of monopoly powers lies in industry-wide bargaining."

On those two proposals, the AFL, CIO and other organized labor groups have taken a position precisely opposite to that outlined by the NAM.

The House committee is holding extensive hearings on proposed changes to the Taft-Hartley Act, the nation's basic labor law since 1947. AFL President George Meany testified yesterday.

Armstrong accused the Truman administration of failing to administer the law "as it was sworn to administer all laws." He charged the former administration attacked the law "in an effort to shake public confidence in the soundness of such legislation." The Taft-Hartley law was passed over the veto of former President Truman.

On the question of industry-wide bargaining, Armstrong said:

"Where collective bargaining exists it should be carried on at the company and plant level. The National Labor Relations Board should not be permitted to certify a common bargaining agent for the employees of more than one competing employer."

This would mean employees of competing employers would be organized into separate unions. In last year's big steel dispute, for example, it would have meant that each steel company would have bargained with a separate union instead of all bargaining with Philip Murray, late president of the CIO United Steelworkers.

RAILROAD DEAL

The Erie Railroad Tuesday purchased from the Bessemer and Lake Erie Railroad the latter's Vallonia Branch, a short stretch of track which branches off the B. & L. E. near the French Creek trestle and runs into Meadville, serving three industrial sidings. The Erie bought land, rail, ties, spikes and ballast—it has been using the branch for several years under special arrangement with the B. & L. E.

Report Proposes Sweeping Changes In Trade Policies

Washington, (P)—A special White House survey urging sweeping changes in American trade policies strengthened the hand today of a British delegation here for dollar talks with top American officials.

The report, drafted by 13 American business, labor and farm leaders, strongly appealed for lowering of tariffs and other barriers now restricting foreign exports to the U. S.

The recommendations coincided almost exactly with what British and other Allied officials have been hoping this country would do.

Britain's Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden and Chancellor of the Exchequer Richard Butler were expected to cite the survey's conclusion as they arranged new meetings with Secretary of State Dulles and other U. S. officials.

The British-American conference began late yesterday, a few hours after the eight-man British team arrived to talk over possible new steps to combat Britain's continuing dollar difficulties.

Freelink said that higher prices may result from decontrol on bread, appliances, laundry and dry cleaning service and on automobile parts, and copper chemicals.

Today's action left these items still under government price controls: Beer, some chemicals, No. 2 heating oil, various building materials and metals and metal products and machinery.

Friday Last Day For Civil Service Exams

March 13 will be the final day to submit State Civil Service Commission applications for a series of jobs in the State Welfare Department.

This reminder was issued at Harrisburg today by Howell M. Becht, SCSC Executive Director. He explained that oral interviews for the jobs would be conducted at five cities on April 11.

Jobs are: physical restoration and case work supervisor, $5136 to $5718 a year; district supervisor (senior rehabilitation counselor), $4596 to $5136; business enterprises counselor and rehabilitation counselor, both $3870 to $4596.

Becht said interviews will be conducted at Altoona, Harrisburg, Philadelphia, Pittsburgh, and Wilkes-Barre. In addition to interviews, education and experience of applicants will be rated by the Commission. No written test will be held in connection with this program.

Applications may be obtained from the State Civil Service Commission in Harrisburg, state and county offices of the Department of Public Assistance, Pennsylvania State Employment Service local offices, the state office and state stores of the Pennsylvania Liquor Control Board, and offices of the Rehabilitation Section of the Pennsylvania Council for the Blind.

HOME FROM OKINAWA

Lt. John D. Lesser, son of Mr. and Mrs. B. V. Lesser, 406 Conewango avenue, arrived in Warren yesterday after a flight from Okinawa, where he has been on duty for the past year and a half. After an extended visit with his wife and two children, John David II, and Thomas, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Peters, Irvine, and other relatives, Lieut. Lesser will leave for his new assignment at Scott Air Force Base, Belleville, Ill.

Latest Bulletin on Stalin Says Heart Impaired

cal sources said on the basis of the bulletin—first report on Stalin's condition since the initial announcement Wednesday of the illness—gave the Russian chief "little or no chance of recovery." A leading Canadian neurosurgeon said in Montreal that if the medical report was correct, the Soviet leader would now be dead.

"Towards the end of March 4," the bulletin declared, "the state of health of Joseph V. Stalin continues to be grave. The patient is in a state of deep unconsciousness, nervous regulation of breathing as well as cardiac activity continue to remain greatly impaired."

As this latest report on the condition of their leader was announced to the saddened Russian people, the Communist party newspaper Pravda, in a front-page editorial, called for "unity of the party and the people" in these difficult days.

The government's Council of Ministers Cabinet and the Communist party's Central Committee already had announced they were "guiding" the party and the country, but there has been no indication here as to how government or party leadership would be affected by Stalin's incapacity.

Although unquestionably tense and nervous, Moscow's citizens went about their normal tasks as the morning broke with snow falling from grey, heavy-laden skies and a biting wind whipping out of the northeast.

Factories, stores and offices were open as usual. There were no crowds in Red Square, the vast Kremlin battlements.

The chief indication of anything out of the ordinary was the large number of people in the city's churches. Many flocked to burn candles and pray for Stalin's health after Patriarch Alexei of Moscow and all Russia led special prayers for the Russian chief's recovery.

Third Press Conference Attracts Overflow Crowd

tending the draft from the present 24 months to 30 or 36 months as suggested by Gen. James A. Van Fleet.

This third news conference Eisenhower held as President drew an overflow crowd of reporters to the conference room, seating a little over 200.

The President launched it with volunteered statements about Stalin and Russia but most of the time was given over to questions and answers from the newsmen.

First off, Eisenhower said he could not predict what effect Stalin's removal from power would have on East-West tensions.

He said he was discussing the question with his closest advisers but that all the discussions ended up largely where they started.

The President went on to say this country must cling to the determination that progress must be made toward achieving peace.

A reporter asked at this point whether Eisenhower thought the impending change in Russia's leadership would worsen or improve the Soviet anti-Semitic campaign.

Eisenhower said it was a matter of hoping for the best. He said he deplored the Russian moves against Jews.

Then he added that he questioned whether it was wise to say anything, that a statement by a man in his position might make things worse.

Apart from his rejection of a longer draft term, Eisenhower had almost nothing to say about yesterday's testimony by Gen. Van Fleet at the capitol.

Van Fleet said among other things that in his view the only way to end the Korean conflict was by a military victory.

Asked directly for comment, Eisenhower said that Van Fleet had expressed similar views in the past and that there was nothing particularly new in his testimony.

KIDNEYS MUST REMOVE EXCESS WASTE

Nagging backache, loss of pep and energy, headaches and dizziness may be due to slow-down of kidney function. Doctors say good kidney function is very important to good health. When some everyday condition, such as stress and strain, causes this important function to slow down, many folks suffer nagging backache, feel miserable. Minor bladder irritations due to cold or wrong diet may cause getting up nights or frequent passages. Don't neglect your kidneys if these conditions bother you. Try Doan's Pills, a mild, drastic. Used successfully by millions for over 60 years. It's amazing how many times Doan's give happy relief from these discomforts—help the 16 miles of kidney tubes and filters flush out waste. introduce the measures in the Legislature.

Some provisions of the new Bills:

1. Make sure the natural parents have relinquished a child for adoption by going into court and legally giving up the child before it is placed for adoption.

2. Foster parents would be required to disclose the intermediary through whom they have received a child for adoption and this intermediary would be required to appear in court at the adoption hearing.

3. Permit an earlier investigation of the home in which a child is placed for adoption.

Committee Surveying Turnpike Opens Hearing

"Reducing the speed limit from 70 to 60 miles an hour over the entire toll road will relieve neither the seriousness nor the number of accidents," said John W. Beyer, Lancaster County district attorney.

He recommended compulsory rest stops of 10 minutes for all drivers at definite intervals as a method to decrease driver fatigue. This fatigue is the chief cause of accidents, Beyer believes.

But Orville Schwager, Burgess of Elizabethtown, Lancaster County argued that 70 miles an hour is not too fast for a modern road like the turnpike.

The present auto and bus speed limit is 60 miles an hour from the Breezewood Interchange to the Western terminus of the 327-mile four-lane highway at the Ohio line. From Breezewood eastward it's 70.

Teams Are Announced for All-Star Game Here Wednesday

Dick Finley of Marienville, Fred Bauer of Sugar Grove, to Coach Valley League's Players

Announcement was made today of the two teams, East and West, selected to compete in the annual All-Star game of the Upper Allegheny Valley League at Beauty gymnasium in Warren next Wednesday night, March 11.

Coached by Fred Bauer of Sugar Grove, the West team will be made up of the following players: McCaskey, Haight and Wood, all of Youngsville; Morrison, McIntyre and Buckingham, all of Tidoute; Getting and Fieldman, both of East Forest; Thompson of Pleasantville; and Frank of Sugar Grove.

The East team will be coached by Dick Finley of Marienville, and will include Atkin and Schwab of Tidoute, Seifert and Dieble of

SCHEDULE IS APPROVED FOR 1954 SEASON

Warren High school's basketball team will open its Section 2 competition on January 4, 1954, against Franklin on the latter's court and will close the season against Corry in a game at Beauty gym on February 26, according to the 1954 schedule which was approved at last night's meeting of Section 2 officials in Warren.

Fred Schwab of Corry, was elected president of the Section 2 organization last night, with Joe Massa as secretary-treasurer. Mr. Massa, Warren High coach, was the retiring president.

Meadville High, as Section 2 champion this year, was awarded a trophy provided by the National Forge and Ordnance Company, becoming its permanent possessor because of three titles won. A similar trophy is to be offered in 1954 by the Meadville Tribune-Republic.

Gail Nelson, Best Athlete In Overseas Division, Presented With March of Dimes Trophy

Pfc. Gail T. Nelson, former Warren High basketball great who has been stationed with the U. S. Army in Tokowaraza, Japan, for the past 10 months, was recently chosen the most valuable player and presented a trophy in a March of Dimes benefit tournament.

Nelson has been playing with the 43rd Engineering Construction Battalion team all season and has averaged a fine 22-points per game.

The son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Nelson, 13 Parker street, Gail was drafted into the Army in October, 1951, and has spent 16 of his 17 months service in Japan.

Dickson Reception Is Rough; Stuffel Bids for Meyer Job

Havana, Cuba (AP) — Murry Dickson, the mainstay of the Pittsburgh Pirates pitching staff the last few years, got a rough reception in his first 1953 pitching assignment yesterday.

Dickson was hurled for the Fitzpatrick's against the Posedels in an intra-squad game and one of Dickson's tosses was belted for a home run by outfielder Felipe Montemayor under contract to the New Orleans club.

The Fitzpatrick's won, 6-3, collecting 19 hits off Dickson, Forest Main, Ed Wolfe and Jim Dunn.

Stream Conditions And Weather Point To Fine Trout Year

If the present weather and the condition of the streams are any reasonable criterion, then the 1953 trout season should be one of the greatest in the history of Pennsylvania.

The fleet of tank trucks used for stocking the streams of the Commonwealth, began rolling on February 3rd. With but few remote exceptions in the northern part of the state, the stocking program is accomplishing a stupendous job with little interference so far, by bad weather, snow or ice.

Some 1,400,000 trout weighing approximately 225 tons and including brook, brown and rainbows measuring from seven inches and longer, all takeable fish will be placed in the streams before the opening day, April 15, 1953.

Six inches is the legal size, eight the day's limit which (8) is also the possession limit at any time.

All types of fishing including the taking of bait fish, is prohibited during the period from midnight March 14th until 5:00 a. m. April 15th, except only in rivers, lakes and ponds not stocked with trout. Fishermen who gather bait fish before midnight March 14th and who do not exceed 35 of any one species or who do not exceed a total of fifty of combined species, under the law, are allowed to hold them over this period.

Psychologist Says Athletes Go Thru 9 to 33 Day Cycles

Atlantic City, N. J. (AP)—Football coaches who mean about injuries, tough schedules and other assorted woes can add a new one to the list—the "emotional cycle" of their players.

A Philadelphia psychologist yesterday told some 100 high school and small college coaches attending a football clinic here that players' emotions go through regular cycles, running from 9 to 33 days. He said when the player is in the bottom of the cycle he just won't be able to do his best.

Unanimous Decision Over Nardico Puts Joey Out in Front

Miami, Fla. (AP)—Joey Maxim, the fancy master of the left jab, was back in the boxing business today after winning a unanimous 10-round decision over the young Tampa slugger Danny Nardico.

They said Pal Joey was all washed up after Archie Moore slapped off his light heavyweight crown in St. Louis Dec. 17. And many fans doubted the 30-year-old Maxim's ability to handle Nardico.

But Joey, a bit plump around the middle at 183½ pounds, stood off the charging Nardico with ease in Miami Stadium last night, although he had to scramble off the deck in the seventh when Nardico caught him with a right to the head. Nardico weighed 176½.

The ex-champ's manager, Jack Kearns, declared after the fight that Joey not only was back on the right trail but planned to go after Rocky Marciano's heavyweight championship.

"We'll fight Roland Lasterza first if necessary," Kearns asserted, "but Marciano's the one we want."

Asked about the contract giving Maxim a return fight with Moore, Kearns said, "We'll take Moore when the right time comes."

Jim Norris, International Boxing Club president, tossed cold water on the idea of Maxim campaigning in the heavyweight ranks. Norris said:

"I don't know that Lasterza wants Maxim. He's in good shape after his win over Rex Layne. And I don't think it would be fair to let Maxim have Marciano and keep Lasterza, Layne and Ezzard Charles waiting."

Maxim was more of a fighter than he has been in a long time as he pounded the 25-year-old Nardico's face with his left and threw his right hand in a surprisingly effective fashion. He piled up a big early lead while making Nardico miss badly with his long right swings.

16.6-POINT AVERAGE

Jesse Amelle, who already owns Fenn State single game season and career records, is slowly pulling up on his scoring pace of last year. The New Rochelle, N. Y., sophomore currently is hitting the cords at a 16.6-points per game pace as compared with his record-shattering 18.9 pace of last year.

Petitions Are Filed Six Candidates

With many petitions being circulated for borough offices, submitted to the decisions of the voters on May 19 primaries, only six actually been filed at the city commissioner's office. Final for filing is Monday, March 16. Those on file now include William Rice, council president, who filed for burgess on the Republican ticket; Robert O. Wilder, city Court, who will be a candidate for councilman from the fifth ward; Brackett Ayers, who will again in the second ward; George G. Smith, who will run again in the third ward; and T. L. Armstrong, who will be a candidate in the first ward. All are Republicans.

Levin G. Keller, president of board of education, has also filed a petition, placing him in the ring for re-election.

Friends of Blaine Mead, fifth ward, are circulating petitions on behalf of nomination for the next seat on the Republican ticket.

County offices to be filled include Register and Recorder, Coroner, and District Attorney. Both Coroner Ed C. Lowrey are circulating petitions to have their names placed on the Republican ticket. Petitions are also being circulated for P. C. Ostergard as a candidate for Register and Recorder.

SCHOOL HEAD RESIGNS
Franklin News-Herald: Dr. Harry H. Moore, superintendent of the Franklin schools for the past three years, announced this morning he would accept an appointment as supervising principal of the Borough of Bethel schools in Allegheny County. Announcement of the appointment, effective July 1, 1933, was made in Bethel last night by Frank Jack, secretary of the Bethel School Board, but Dr. Moore indicated he had not yet received written confirmation of the offer. Expressing his regret over the "premature" announcement, the superintendent admitted he had been "involved in negotiations" with the board of the Allegheny County community began to search for a successor to G. M. Buck, who resigned several months ago. He was informed Monday evening his name was "high on the list" of candidates for the position and that his election to the position was assured pending agreement on "one of two terms."

BARNES

Barnes—There were about 15 present at the tureen dinner for the official board and church workers in the church basement Friday evening. The choir had charge of the kitchen and arrangements. Mrs. C. E. Conquer had charge of the devotions, using as her topic "Little Things." Rev. Mottern presided at the business meeting. A report was made of the repairs recently made on the furnace and it was decided to hold these meetings the third Friday evening of the month so as not to conflict with the meeting of the Omega Class. It was also decided to buy more insurance for the church.

The Omega Class of the Methodist Sunday school held its monthly business and social meeting at the home of Mrs. Roy Wolfe Friday evening. Plans were made for the soup dinner, jointly sponsored by this class and the Adult Bible Class.

The fire department was called to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Blair about noon Saturday, to take care of a chimney fire. The fire department, with its efficient service, gives the residents of Barnes a feeling of security, worth many times the cost to the individual taxpayer.

CRUDE PRICE INCREASES
The posted price of Pennsylvania grade crude oil increased from a 1913 $2.05 to the present - day $4.40 but the percentage of increase is not as great as the price for Oklahoma and Kansas crude. According to the Guaranty Survey, published monthly by the Guaranty Trust Co. of New York, Oklahoma-Kansas crude sold for 83 cents a barrel on January, 1913, but today it sells for $2.59—a gain of more than 300 per cent. Pennsylvania crude's price gain for the same period is slightly more than 200 per cent.

Chapter One

THE boat chugged in from the ocean and made straight for Municipal Pier. It looked ridiculously small to be carrying fish as well as fishermen, but out went the usual cloud of gulls to blot it from view. Then, suddenly, Ruth Carlisle heard the roars of Mr. Hufford in rage. "Thieves!" he bellowed. "Blasted, bread-snatching thieves!"

Fiercely the fat artist from Maine defended his own. He waved his straw hat, he kicked, he denounced the gulls furiously. But food was food, and whimsical Rod Fantuzzi happened to be sprinkling a lot of it on the deck behind the artist's broad back.

Then it happened.

Rod cried a warning, but it wasn't heard. Oblivious to all but gulls and pelicans, Mr. Hufford stepped on a fish. "Timber!" screamed Ruth from the pier. The man-mount skidded, fought helplessly for his balance.

Came the crash!

At which point he bellowed, "I quit!" and once again the Carlises had a problem on their hands.

Ruth scowled. She went back to the bench under the awning and studied Nancy's pale, winking face. Wasn't it time that Nancy found a new favorite? Hadn't penniless Mr. Hufford been the hotel's non-paying guest long enough? "Your hero," she sighed. "What's the next bright idea?"

Down the pier marched Seventeen to the bench of the waitress Me. As the fishing boat came nearer she smiled alluringly at Rod in the bow. "Rod first," she announced grimly. "Or would you rather see Johnny skulled first?"

"It'd better be Johnny. Rod will toss you to the sharks."

Sulking, the fat artist remained where he'd fallen. Spotting Nancy on the pier, he waved a ham-like hand. "I've quit. Nothing but buffoonery and a blasted ocean and slimy fish!"

Announced Captain Johnny Lord: "You'll lose your pay, Hufford."

"Blast it! I owe the hotel a hundred dollars!"

"Well?"

The great man struggled to his feet. Sunburned, wet, grimy, he made a sad sight after his first day as a commercial fisherman. Looking at him, Ruth felt pity. Then Mr. Hufford took up his position in the bow and watching him, she changed her mind. Obviously rough treatment had been what Mr. Hufford needed. Clearly afraid to blunder, the huge artist did an incredibly expert job of helping to warp the boat into the slip.

Nancy Carlisle met her sister's amused eyes, and scowled. The wages happened to be grim necessity. Their father had been pleasant about it, but quite firm. It was pay up by the end of next week, or be evicted. That had been the decision, and there'd been an expression on Mr. Carlisle's face that had clearly said he wouldn't compromise again.

Ruth chuckled, enjoying the warm sun, the smells and sound

THE VOICE OF LOVE

William Neubauer

The boat made straight for the pier.

of the sea, the haggling. "You're lucky," she said to the fat artist. "You'll never meet finer men or do more important work. And doesn't it make you feel good to know that you're paying off your debt?"

"I'll never eat another piece of fish! Don't serve it to me, because I'll send it back to the kitchen." Sadly the artist dropped a bucket overboard. "Blast it, I should be painting!"

RUTH remembered the waiting Bob, and left. "All well?" Bob got out of the car and tossed a cigarette away. "Do you think Fatso will live?"

"All perfect. Bob. He may hate menial work, but he's sticking things out."

Bob had more important things on his mind. He wanted to ask the question of questions. He scowled. He turned his back on toiling Mr. Hufford and the immense sea. He studied the rosy oval face, the lovely sight Ruth made in her beige wool dress. He wanted to kiss her then and there on the spot.

He caught her arm as she sought to turn right instead of continuing straight across Ocean Road to Henderson's Park.

"No nonsense, Bob! Drat it, no nonsense!"

"We have to talk," he said stubbornly. "It's stupid to go on this way. We're throwing youth away, that's what."

"That's a nice thing to tell a girl!"

"It's true."

He led her into the great park with its rolling lawns and masses of trees. They'd played together there as children.

"Nice," intoned Robert O'Brien. "But the farm is nicer. Heaven's a farm in springtime, that's what I think. A farm's the only place to live. There's something perfect about living close to the earth. Doesn't that appeal, Ruth?"

It was wistfully asked. Bob's face was flushed now with the intensity of emotion. His gray eyes contained an almost feverish glitter. Along his left temple a tiny vein throbbled noticeably.

"Isn't that the sort of life you want?"

When she was in love a voice inside her would tell her so. She'd know. There'd be no doubts, there'd be no fears, there'd be no reservations. Like a bell the voice would be, and when it rang it would ring for happiness. Until then...

"The voice says nothing. Bob I'm sorry. But there it is. The voice just says nothing."

"And you teach school? Heaven help the children you teach! They'll grow up to be fools!"

He turned and left then, leaving her alone. She felt sorry for him, too, felt sorry for him as she'd felt sorry for Mr. Hufford. But could a girl marry a man she didn't love? Utterly, utterly ridiculous!

Rising, she snapped her fingers in the fragrant air.

Chapter One

THE boat chugged in from the ocean and made straight for Municipal Pier. It looked ridiculously small to be carrying fish as well as fishermen, but out went the usual cloud of gulls to blot it from view. Then, suddenly, Ruth Carlisle heard the roars of Mr. Hufford in rage. "Thieves!" he bellowed. "Blasted, bread-snatching thieves!"

Fiercely the fat artist from Maine defended his own. He waved his straw hat, he kicked, he denounced the gulls furiously. But food was food, and whimsical Rod Fantuzzi happened to be sprinkling a lot of it on the deck behind the artist's broad back.

Then it happened.

Rod cried a warning, but it wasn't heard. Oblivious to all but gulls and pelicans, Mr. Hufford stepped on a fish. "Timber!" screamed Ruth from the pier. The man-mount skidded, fought helplessly for his balance.

Came the crash!

At which point he bellowed, "I quit!" and once again the Carlises had a problem on their hands.

Ruth scowled. She went back to the bench under the awning and studied Nancy's pale, winking face. Wasn't it time that Nancy found a new favorite? Hadn't penniless Mr. Hufford been the hotel's non-paying guest long enough? "Your hero," she sighed. "What's the next bright idea?"

Down the pier marched Seventeen to the bench of the waitress Me. As the fishing boat came nearer she smiled alluringly at Rod in the bow. "Rod first," she announced grimly. "Or would you rather see Johnny skulled first?"

"It'd better be Johnny. Rod will toss you to the sharks."

Sulking, the fat artist remained where he'd fallen. Spotting Nancy on the pier, he waved a ham-like hand. "I've quit. Nothing but buffoonery and a blasted ocean and slimy fish!"

Announced Captain Johnny Lord: "You'll lose your pay, Hufford."

"Blast it! I owe the hotel a hundred dollars!"

"Well?"

The great man struggled to his feet. Sunburned, wet, grimy, he made a sad sight after his first day as a commercial fisherman. Looking at him, Ruth felt pity. Then Mr. Hufford took up his position in the bow and watching him, she changed her mind. Obviously rough treatment had been what Mr. Hufford needed. Clearly afraid to blunder, the huge artist did an incredibly expert job of helping to warp the boat into the slip.

Nancy Carlisle met her sister's amused eyes, and scowled. The wages happened to be grim necessity. Their father had been pleasant about it, but quite firm. It was pay up by the end of next week, or be evicted. That had been the decision, and there'd been an expression on Mr. Carlisle's face that had clearly said he wouldn't compromise again.

Ruth chuckled, enjoying the warm sun, the smells and sound

Red Cross Chapter Planning First Aid Training Program

Warren County Red Cross Chapter announces plans have been completed for the inauguration of a first aid training program for Warren and North Warren, with initial classes on Monday of next week. All persons interested are urged to attend the opening session and enroll in one of the available classes scheduled as follows:
Monday—7:00 to 10:00, Red Cross headquarters, 404 Market street.
Tuesday—7:00 to 10:00, South street school building; 8:00 to 11:00, North Warren community house.
Thursday—7:00 to 10:00, Mc-
Clintock school building.
The Standard First Aid course will be taught and all persons 15 years of age or older are eligible to attend classes.
Only expense to the individual is the sum of 70 cents, purchase price of the necessary textbooks, which then become the personal property of the student.
The Standard First Aid course,
plus the Civil Defense supplementary work on first aid procedure relative to atomic warfare, requires a total of 21 hours of class time. The period spent in the classroom is devoted to a lecture plus a practical work session and there will be seven weekly classes of three hours each.

Verdi composed his last opera,
"Falstaff," in his 80th year, and many musicians consider it his greatest.
